

I have had my XM Satellite Radio now for over a year, and I love it. I will never be without it ever again. The selection of music they offer is a big part of the draw, but now that they are offering the traffic and weather channels of the major cities, it is more than just listening pleasure; it is also wonderful information. I live in an area where the traffic can change in the blink of an eye, and can make your 15 minute trip 2 hours. So it is nice to be able to get informed through the satellite radio instead of the regular radio and all the commercials that go with it. The quality of the sound and the accuracy of the information provided are unbeatable by any radio I have ever heard. Please reject the NAB's petition 04-160. Thank you.
